ITEM

18a. Give:

- (1) the genealogy, including public and commercial varieties, lines, or clones used, and the breeding method;
- (2) the details of subsequent stages of selection and multiplication;
- (3) evidence of uniformity and stability; and
- (4) the type and frequency of variants during reproduction and multiplication and state how these variants may be identified
- 18b. Give a summary of the variety's distinctness. Clearly state how this application variety may be distinguished from all other varieties in the same crop. If the new variety is most similar to one variety or a group of related varieties:
  - (1) identify these varieties and state all differences objectively;
  - (2) attach statistical data for characters expressed numerically and demonstrate that these are clear differences; and
  - (3) submit, if helpful, seed and plant specimens or photographs (prints) of seed and plant comparisons which clearly indicate distinctness
- 18c. Exhibit C forms are available from the PVPO Office for most crops; specify crop kind. Fill in Exhibit C (Objective Description of Variety) form as completely as possible to describe your variety.
- 18d. Optional additional characteristics and/or photographs. Describe any additional characteristics that cannot be accurately conveyed in Exhibit C. Use comparative varieties as is necessary to reveal more accurately the characteristics that are difficult to describe, such as plant habit, plant color, disease resistance, etc.
- 18e. Section 52(5) of the Act requires applicants to furnish a statement of the basis of the applicant's ownership. An Exhibit E form is available from the PVPO.
- 19. If "Yes" is specified (seed of this variety be sold by variety name only, as a class of certified seed), the applicant MAY NOT reverse this affirmative decision after the variety has been sold and so labeled, the decision published, or the certificate issued. However, if "No" has been specified, the applicant may change the choice. (See Regulations and Rules of Practice, Section 97.103).
- 22. See Sections 41, 42, and 43 of the Act and Section 97.5 of the regulations for eligibility requirements.
- 23. See Section 5.5 of the Act for instructions on claiming the benefit of an earlier filing date.
- 22. CONTINUED FROM FRONT (Please provide the date of first sale, disposition, transfer, or use for each country and the circumstances, if the variety (including any harvested material) or a hybrid produced from this variety has been sold, disposed of, transferred, or used in the U.S. or other countries.)

Europe: April 1999

Japan: September 1997

Exhibit A, Breeding History May 20, 2000 (THD) Revised: July 15, 2002 (THD)

In 1989 the initial cross was made between a late blooming, small, semi-double flowered, carmine-rose petal color, V-shaped habit breeding line as the female and the variety 'Matsumoto Scarlet' as the male line. The female line was a true breeding off-type plant selected from the variety 'Matsumoto Red'. 'Matsumoto Scarlet' is an early flowering, V-shaped habit Aster possessing orange-red double petaled flowers.

In 1990 F1 plants were grown and F2 seed was harvested. In 1991 the F2 plants were grown in a Fusarium infested nursery and F2 selections were made for Fusarium tolerance, early blooming, V-shaped plant habit and white petals with a secondary color. Several plant lines were selected and self-pollinated.

Single plant selection and self-pollination continued until 1994 when a single F5 selection was made. In 1995 the F6 line was confirmed to be stable and true breeding.

'Serenade Blue-Tipped White' was subsequently observed to be uniform and stable in two more generations. It was determined that the new variety lacks genetic variants.

Exhibit B, Distinctness Statement May 20, 2000 (THD) Revised: July 15, 2002 (THD)

To the best of our knowledge, 'Serenade Blue-Tipped White' most clearly resembles 'Serenade White'. However, 'Serenade Blue-Tipped White' differs from 'Serenade White' in at least one characteristic. While the flower petals of 'Serenade White' remain white, the flower petals on 'Serenade Blue-Tipped White' begin as white in color when the bud opens and then develop a light blue (RHS 87A) color to the distal half of the petals.
